

WORD LIST

LEVEL:
Medium

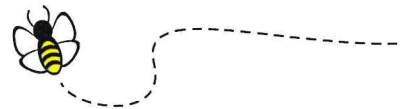

Abstain
Astonish
Bewitch
Character
Chronic
Collide
Committee
Companion
Corridor
Cupboard
Cylinder
Dynasty
Expedient
Familiar
Famous
Forfeit
Frequency
Gigantic
Hierarchy
Inclusion
Initial Knuckle
Library
Luscious
Minus
Museum
Nonsense
Occasion
Ornament
Oxygen
Panorama
Particular
Pedestal
Perimeter
Periodic Permanent
Permission
Personality
Pharmacy
Plague
Plausible
Politician
Preclude
Premature

Proclaim
Professor
Pronounce
Prosecute
Purchase

To lose weight the man needed to abstain from chocolate.
The magician managed to astonish and amaze his audience.
The sorcerer was able to bewitch the peasant girl.
Donald Duck is my favourite Disney character.
Gran's arthritis causes chronic pain in her elbow.
The passer-by watched the cars collide.
A committee was formed to organise the Sports Day.
A travelling companion is a good idea so that you don't get lonely.
A long corridor lead to the library.
He put the sugar in the cupboard.
A can of baked beans is a cylinder shape.
Prince William is a member of the royal dynasty.
They chose a quick route that would be expedient.
The woman looked familiar, Simon was sure they had met before.
I want be famous when I grow up.
It was agreed that the loser of the race would do a forfeit.
She checked the timetable to see the frequency of the bus.
The giant lived in a gigantic house.
It was important to be aware of the hierarchy at the office.
The soccer player was delighted with his inclusion in the team.
After the initial shock she really enjoyed the surprise party.
He scraped his knuckle on the wall.
She borrowed a book from the library.
With plenty of melted chocolate and cream, the dessert was luscious.
Ten minus two equals eight.
The artist frequently went to the museum to see the public reaction to his work.
The film was just silly, it was utter nonsense.
The christening was a joyous occasion for all the family.
The precious ornament adorned the mantle piece.
We all breathe oxygen.
They stood on the hilltop to admire the panorama.
There are some particular tastes that I don't like.
It is a bad idea to put someone on a pedestal.
There was a fence around the perimeter of the field.
The class would learn to use a periodic table in Chemistry.
The vandal had used permanent marker on the table.
He asked his parents for permission to go to the disco.
Getting to know someone means learning about their personality.
Rory brought Granny's prescription to the pharmacy.
The black plague devastated Europe during the Middle Ages.
It was a good film but the storyline was just not plausible.
The politician gave an impressive speech.
Modesty did not preclude him from accepting the prize.
He was premature with his question as the topic would be covered later.

They waited for the King to proclaim that taxes would be lowered.
The professor of history was old and grumpy.
Some words are more difficult to pronounce than others
The police decided not to prosecute as it had been her first offence.
I would like to purchase some sweets.

WORD LIST

LEVEL:

Medium

Pursuit
Quarter
Recession
Recommend
Recruit
Rectify
Redundant
Referendum
Reluctant
Remember
Renegade
Renovate
Resemble
Responsible
Revolve
Ritual
Rosette
Ruffian
Sacrament
Sanction
Saunter
Scorpion
Scoundrel
Scripture
Seminar
Serene
Stingy
Stringent

Sympathy
Tedious
Therapy
Tournament
Utility
Wedge
Whimper
Yipper
Yump

The security guard ran in pursuit of the thief.
At a quarter to five the game will begin.
The news reports were full of stories about the recession.
He asked his friend to recommend a suitable candidate.
He received a uniform when he signed up as a recruit.
They did their best to rectify the situation.
The landline telephone is redundant in many homes.
The decision would be made by way of a referendum.
He was reluctant to take the chance.
She would try and remember to bring the CD.
The renegade troops posed a serious danger.
They hired an architect to help them renovate the old house.
The son began to resemble his father.
One must be responsible in order to take care of a pet.
For many years, children's lives revolve around school.
The witch performed a ritual to increase her powers.
The rosette was awarded to the best dog at the show.
The ruffian had robbed people all his life.
Confession is a Catholic sacrament.
The public would not sanction the government cuts.
Conor used to saunter along to school and so was always late.
The scorpion stung her on the foot.
She was a scoundrel who cheated her way to success.
Jesus' apostles wrote much of the scripture that is read today.
Everyone was invited to attend a public speaking seminar.
Due to her calm nature, the lady always appeared so serene.
Ebenezer Scrooge was known to be a stingy man.
The Principal made it clear she would be stringent about uniform rules.
It was hard not to feel sympathy when Orla hurt her foot.
The long film became tedious after a while.
Sean had therapy on his knee after his rugby incident.
Every year there is a tennis tournament in the local club.
The electricity network is a public utility.
They placed a piece of timber as a wedge to stop the door closing.
The puppy began to whimper when he was left on his own.
Fans were intrigued to watch the golfer yipper before taking his shot.
It was a sight to see the rally car yump over the ridge.