Maths: Topic: Weight

- Busy at Maths: Weight: Pg. 165 - 167

*Tips

- Look at the example for page 165 Question 1. Note that it says it may be easier to find 100g first. I have also done some examples below. Look at the Deli Price List for your starting point.

Example 2

A local store has opened a new deli section. Study the price list. Work out the cost per kilogramme (kg) for each item.

150g of kidney beans cost 39c

$$150\text{g} = 39\text{c}$$

$$50\text{g} = 13\text{c}$$

$$100\text{g} = 26\text{c}$$

$$1,000\text{g} (1\text{kg}) = \text{€}2.60$$

$$\leftarrow (39\text{c} \div 3)$$

$$\leftarrow (13\text{c} \times 2)$$

$$\leftarrow (26\text{c} \times 10)$$

DELI PRICE LIST

Kidney beans: 39c for 150g

Jalapeno peppers: €1.25 for 500g

Wild mushrooms: €3.30 for 200g

Green chillies: €3.21 for 300g

Stuffed olives: 60c for 125g

Sun-dried tomatoes: €1.89 for 350g

Red peppers: €3.51 for 450g

Look at the Jalapeno peppers: €1.25 for 500g

Step One: Find 100g by dividing €1.25 by 5

$$\text{€}1.25 \div 5 = 25\text{c}$$

Step Two: Find 1000g/1kg by multiplying 25c by 10

$$25\text{c} \times 10 = 250\text{c} = \text{€}2.50$$

Example 2 – Quick way

A local store has opened a new deli section. Study the price list. Work out the cost per kilogramme (kg) for each item.

150g of kidney beans cost 39c

150g = 39c

50g = 13c

100g = 26c

1,000g (1kg) = €2.60

← (39c ÷ 3)

← (13c × 2)

← (26c × 10)

DELI PRICE LIST

Kidney beans: 39c for 150g

Jalapeno peppers: €1.25 for 500g

Wild mushrooms: €3.30 for 200g

Green chillies: €3.21 for 300g

Stuffed olives: 60c for 125g

Sun-dried tomatoes: €1.89 for 350g

Red peppers: €3.51 for 450g

There is a quicker way to approach the sum. Did you think of it?

Look at the Jalapeno peppers: €1.25 for 500g

500g is $\frac{1}{2}$ of 1Kg so if you multiply €1.25 x 2 you get 1000g (or 1kg)

€1.25 x 2 = €2.50

Remember there is always more than one way to approach a problem!!
